Schoolhouse Near Church Hill
Destroyed By Fire.

Scholar Discovers Flames But Too
Late to Save Either Building
Or Contents.

The office in Mr. J. P. Nuckols' yard near Church Hill, was destroyed by fire last Thursday. The building was used as a schoolhouse, in which a subscription school was being taught. One of the scholars went out for a scuttle of coal and discovered the house in flames. An alarm was given, but the fire had made great headway and nothing could be done to save the structure.

A rear room a bed and considerable bedding, about 500 new wheat sacks, sixty bushels of stock peas and other articles were stored, all of which was also destroyed. The fire originated from a defective flue.

Mr. Nuckols' loss is probably $1,000. He had no insurance. His misfortune is a source of much regret to his many friends.

BEGAN SUNDAY.

Fleeting Now In Progress at Christian Church.

A series of evangelistic meetings began at the Christian church Sunday. Rev. E. L. Powell, of Louisville, arrived yesterday to assist the pastor, Elder Smith, and preached the first sermon of his series last night. Dr. Powell was formerly pastor of the Christian church here.

RIPLEY WILL TELL

What Occurred Between Him
And Taylor.

Bradley And Yost Reinfirm Their Statements Walter Ripley
Will Deny.

Frankfort, Ky., April 14.—The trial of Garnett D. Ripley as an alleged conspirator in the murder of Goebel will be resumed at noon tomorrow. The defendant himself will be the first witness for the defense.

Ex Gov. Bradley and Judge W. H. Yost could not be seen today, but it is known that they have reaffirmed their statements.

There is a report that both Bradley and Yost in their testimony before the grand jury told much more than they did on the stand last week. The prosecution asked them questions bearing on only the one point, and the defense did not cross-examine them. The prosecution closed in the Ripley case at 11:15 o'clock today and a motion for peremptory instruction for acquittal was promptly overruled by Judge Cantrill.

When his motion was overruled Attorney O'Neal arose and made his client's statement to the jury. He claimed that Ripley's acquaintance with Taylor dated only from the 16th of January, when he went to Frankfort to see about the organization of his militia company, and that he had nothing to do with the murder conspiracy.

CHANGE IN "FLYERS."

New L. & N. Schedule Went Into Effect Sunday.

The new schedule of the Louisville & Nashville railroad went into effect Sunday, as previously published in the Kentuckian.

Only two trains in this division are effected thereby, Nos. 91 and 92.

Number 91, South-bound, will leave here at 11:59 p. m., instead of 8:50 as heretofore.

Number 92, North-bound, will leave here at 5:37 a. m., instead of 7:44.

These trains, known as the "Fast Flyers," only stop on flag, but tickets will be sold here for the various points North and South along the line where through trains are scheduled to stop. Trains will also stop here for passengers en route to this city.

Number 51, South-bound, leaves this place at 5:22, one minute earlier than formerly, and number 53, South-bound, leaves here at 6:01 a. m. instead of 6 o'clock.

"NO PROPERTY FOUND"

Was Indorsed on Marriage License
Returned to Clerk.

Mr. Ben Nelson, a well known young farmer of Beverly, secured a license Friday to wed Mrs. Fannie Johnson, of the same neighborhood, but when the young man, accompanied by a minister, went to the lady's residence Friday night to have the nuptial knot tied she had left home and could not be found. The wedding, of course, did not take place and the event had to be indefinitely postponed.

On Saturday morning Mr. Nelson returned the license to the County Clerk indorsed "no property found."

CAVANAUGH-WHITE.

Justice Fuller.

Esq. B. F. Fuller officiated at the wedding of Mr. M. H. Cavanaugh and Miss Florence White last Thursday night. The happy event took place at the home of the bride, near Renshaw's store in North Christian. A large crowd of the friends of the young people witnessed the ceremony.

FUSION COMPLETE.

Ticket Finished and Will Be Nominated May 6.

Device To Be a Chicken Cock
Standing on a Smoke
House.

The joint fusion conference committees of Democrats and Republicans met again Saturday, after an adjournment of two weeks. Even more enthusiasm was displayed than before.

The special committee from the Democratic County Committee was present and every member of it left the conference a strong advocate of fusion.

The notification committee reported that all but three of the nominees had accepted the nominations, or would do so when approved by a county convention. These exceptions were H. W. Breathitt, for County Clerk; H. B. Crunk, for Surveyor, and Jas. B. Allensworth, for Representative. These vacancies were filled by selecting George B. Croft, Republican, for County Clerk; David Anderson, Republican, for County Surveyor and J. L. P'Pool, Democrat, for Representative.

The ticket as completed now stands:

Judge, J. Fagan Dixon, Democrat, of Howell.

Attorney, Frank Rives, Democrat, of Hopkinsville.

Clerk, George B. Croft, Republican, of Palmyra.

Sheriff, Hilliard M. Dalton, Republican, of Hopkinsville.

Assessor, David Smith, Democrat, of Bluff Springs.

Superintendent of Schools, U. L. Clardy, Democrat, of Beverly.

Surveyor, David Anderson, Republican, of Crofton.

Jaifer, Milton A. Littlefield, Republican, of Howell.

Representative, J. Lucian P'Pool, Democrat, of Bainbridge.

No nomination for Coroner.

The device agreed upon is a chicken cock on top of a smoke house.

The ticket and device were agreed to unanimously and a committee was appointed to wait upon the Democratic County Committee at its meeting next Saturday at 11 o'clock, and ask that the action of the conference be endorsed and ratified.

A call was then made for a county convention at the court house on Monday May 6, at one o'clock p. m., to formally nominate a ticket, which is expected to be the one agreed upon in the conference of both sides. The Democratic committee is also asked to join in this call and co-operate in the organization that is expected to make the ticket a winner.

Mr. Anderson, the nominee for Surveyor, is the present Republican County Surveyor, and the nominee for County Clerk is a prominent farmer living on the Clarksville pike, formerly of Crofton. He will be a strong man on the ticket and the fact that his son is a son-in-law of the lamented Judge Thos. J. Morrow will make him especially acceptable to the Democratic friends of Judge Morrow, who at the time of his death was one of the most popular party leaders in the county.

Lucian P'Pool, the candidate for Representative, is a member of the Democratic County Committee. He is a son of Esq. J. M. P'Pool, and a son-in-law of Mr. Joe F. Turner, a leading Republican who is supporting the fusion ticket. Mr. P'Pool is a merchant and successful trader and farmer of Bainbridge and a capable man in every way.

At the final conference the Republican representation was increased to about twenty-five, two thirds of them being colored leaders from all parts of the county. Many of them asserted that they had never voted for a Democrat before, but would this time support the

FIRE AT NORTONVILLE.

Power House of Oak Hill Coal Company Burned.

Madisonville, Ky., April 14.—The power-house of the Oak Hill Coal Company, located at Nortonville, was destroyed by fire last evening, entailing a loss of $8,000. It is thought to have been the work of incendiaries. Everything was all right when the night watchman went to supper, and when returned a few minutes later, the building was in flames.

Suspicion pointed to several union miners who were discharged some time ago for joining the union. The building will be replaced at once.

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 1901.

T. M. Pemberton, a Kentuckian, who recently went from Glasgow to Oklahoma, was murdered and robbed last week, by highwaymen.

Gen. Thos. H. Taylor, a veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars and for a long time chief of Police of Louisville, died last Friday, aged 76 years. His remains were buried at Frankfort.

Gov. Durbin, of Indiana, is said to have decided on his course in the event that requisitions are presented for W. S. Taylor and the other Kentucky fugitives. It is believed he will honor a demand for their return.

Ollie James, Sam Crossman and Newton Utley have announced their candidacy for Congress in the First District and there are several back counties to hear from. This is doing fairly well in the early business, considering the fact that the election is nineteen months off.

Even the Post does not claim that the testimony of Bradley and Yost was purchased. The guilt of Taylor has been so fully established by the testimony of his own legal representatives in the contest proceedings, that Gov. Durbin, of Indiana, is said to be about ready to turn the fugitive over to the Kentucky authorities for trial.

A student in the design of the John A. Logan equestrian statue, recently unveiled in Washington, makes the monument represent a fictitious historical scene, some of the senators represented as witnessing Logan taking the oath of office not being members of the Senate at that time.

The Democrats of Caldwell county are jubilant over the fine showing they made in their primary. They polled 1678 votes, whereas the Republicans could only muster 1252 in their election. Rod L. Greenham as the nominee selected to defeat Frank L. Pasleur for county clerk, who went over to the Republicans and is attempting to secure a reelection on that ticket. Other nominees are as follows: Walter Ne. Chesney, representative; M. J. Green, county judge; Shell R. Smith, county attorney; Miss Nannie Catlett, school superintendent; W. O. Cantrell, jailer; Will D. Dawson, assessor, and Jeff Wylie, editor.

If the United States is not involved in trouble with the Cubans it will not be the fault of the American officers now stationed there. A few days ago Gov. Gen. Wood undertook to suppress a newspaper that published a cartoon about him and last week Capt. Lucian Young, a naval officer, sent two other editors to prison for sixty and thirty days because their paper accused him of lying. Capt. Young's remedy in the United States would be a libel suit or in a personal demand for satisfaction and his attempt to send men to prison for questioning his veracity is an interference with the freedom of the press in a way that would not be tolerated in America and should not be in Cuba. The President should send officers to Cuba whose feelings are not set with hair-trigger and who have sense enough not to use their official positions to resent personal insults.

How to Obtain Relief For Catarrh That Contains Mercury

Mercury will surely destroy the system and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. See articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage done will do in ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials from Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Essays, first, "The Power of Purpose," Mertie Stetmund; second, "Character," Laura Durham. The method of representations was based upon the merit of the productions.

Each member wrote an article selecting his own topic. These were all submitted to Superintendent Pike and then read before the High School Faculty which voted as to the best and the one next ranking in merit. The result was as given above, and the vote on each was unanimous. Prof. Pike says the productions were as a class meritorious, characterized by originality and forcible expression.—Nevada, Mo., Mail.

A Testimonial from Old England.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis," says Mr. William Savory, of Warrington, England. "It has saved my wife's life, she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over six years, being mostly the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." It is a great pleasure to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be able to publish testimonials of this character. They show that great good is being done, pain and suffering relieved and valuable lives restored to health and happiness by this remedy. It is for sale by all druggists.

After the Feudists.

The attempts of County Judge Blain and other Letcher county officials to obtain a peace agreement between the Potter-Reynolds band and Detective Wright's posse at Boone's Fork in that county, have failed. Detective Wright declares he will capture the murderers of Mrs. Hall, dead or alive, and the members of the kluksau gang are determined to resist arrest to the end.

Blood.

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor. There is nothing else to live on or by. When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain, in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood. This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample. It is agreeable and will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 609-41 Pearl Street, New York. 20c and 50c; all druggists.

CLOSE AT HAND.

The Old Fiddlers Contest is Stirring up the Natives.

Liveliest Time on Record is Down On the Program For Friday Night.

The Old Fiddlers' Contest Friday night is attracting attention in surrounding towns. The Princeton-Banner has this, "A fusion to 'Judge' Jack Wylie's fitness for his position."

John B. Wylie, the able and efficient Cashier of the Farmers' National Bank, of this city, has been notified that he is chosen as one of the judges in the Old Fiddlers' Contest which is to come off in two weeks at Hopkinsville. Jack would fit any old sort of judgeship to a nicety, and is known from Lexington to Mills Point as an all around good fellow, but we sadly misjudge if he would know the difference between the music of a fiddle and a pipe organ."

Jap Sisk, the fiddling wonder from the headwaters of Pond River, has laid in a fresh supply of resin and is headed this way. The man who beats him will have to cut some lively capers on the catgut.

Judge Brown and his running mate, Bro. Randle, are rehearsing every twenty minutes and trying to overcome any disposition towards stage fright that may hamper their work on the strings.

A request was received from a man at Frankfort last week to be entered in the heavy weight contest, but he was told that it was now too late as Julian Ford had the prize in that class already cinched.

General Manager Wilgus is so enthused with the outlook that he is thinking of taking the road and playing some of the large cities with the aggregation.

A SOCIAL SENSATION.

Prominent People in Webster Mixed up in a Scandal.

Women Acknowledge Their Sin to the Grand Jury and are Subjected to Fines.

Providence, Ky., April 13.—Webster county is in the throes of a social sensation. Prominent people are involved, and in consequence thereof two homes have already been wrecked. Two husbands, prominent in this community, are missing; two wives have confessed their guilt to the grand jury and five indictments have been returned as a result. All the parties concerned are wealthy or well-to-do.

The affair has not only created a sensation in this community, but in surrounding counties as well. Several of those concerned are known throughout the state.

Indictments have been returned against Mrs. W. F. Montgomery and Franklin Jennings, Franklin Jennings and Mrs. C. J. Slaton; William Farless and Mrs. W. F. Montgomery; W. E. Wooten and Mrs. C. J. Slaton; and Everett Jennings.

Made a Frank Confession. The indictments are all alike, are in the case of Everett Jennings, where the charge differs. In only one of them, however, is the date on which the offense complained of given—the case of W. E. Wooten and Mrs. C. J. Slaton. The women concerned, who were the Misses Headley, twin sisters of Capt. John W. Headley former secretary of state, have confessed their guilt to the grand jury. They were summoned to appear before the grand jury on Monday last, and went to Dixon, where court is now in session for that purpose. Prosecuting Attorney L. C. Flournoy admonished them that they need not give testimony to incriminate themselves unless they saw fit to do so, but once questions were asked them the women made a frank confession of the whole ugly business, incriminating several prominent men of this community. It is understood that the commonwealth's attorney has decided to allow the two women to pay fines of $25 each, but that the men concerned will be vigorously prosecuted.

Who the Parties Are. Mrs. W. F. Montgomery is the wife of a man who until very recently was a merchant of this place and a man of means. She was a Miss Maria Headley, the daughter of James W. Headley, an old and respected farmer. Mrs. C. J. Slaton is her twin sister. She was Miss Ella Headley. She married Mr. Slaton some eight or ten years ago. She is about thirty-five years old, while her husband is probably thirty-eight, and stood high in social and business circles. He saved his money and acquired a business of his own, and at the time of his departure is supposed to be worth several thousand dollars. Both Slaton and Montgomery left shortly after discovering the infidelity of their wives, and had it not been for the counsel of a relative it is almost certain that a serious shooting scrape would have resulted.

Whole Firm Indicted. Franklin Jennings is a well-known farmer, and also has an interest in the drug business of Farless & Jennings, of this place. It is his partner who is also under indictment. Jennings was formerly a partner of W. F. Montgomery in the furniture business here. He is probably fifty-three years old and is estimated to be worth about $15,000. Everett Jennings is his son. He is a bright young lawyer and practices at Madisonville, where he has made quite a reputation. William Farless, the partner of Franklin Jennings in the drug business here, is a man of wealth. Farless is indicted with Mrs. W. F. Montgomery. This is the only case in which there is a witness other than the two women themselves. That witness is S. E. Montgomery, brother to Mrs. Montgomery's husband, who was with the latter when he set a trap to catch his wife.

Boycotted His Mill. Farless has been operating the Providence flouring mill. When gossip became rife as to his relations with Mrs. Montgomery the mill was boycotted by people in this county. A few days since he sold the mill and some real estate for $12,000. He is presumably worth $25,000. Until recently he was prominently mentioned as the Republican nominee for state senator in this, the Fourth senatorial district. After coming here Farless married Miss Elizabeth Cox, daughter of William Cox, now deceased.

W. E. Wooten is the local agent of the L. & N. railroad at Providence. He is indicted on the testimony given by Mrs. C. J. Slaton. He is a married man and has lived here continuously for the past eight years.

"Stick to It." George L. Heard of High Tower, Georgia writes: "Ezema broke out on my baby covering his entire body. Under the treatment of the family physician he got so bad he could not sleep for the burning and itching. We used a box of Banner Salve on him and I by the time it was gone he was well. The doctor seeing it was doing him good he stuck to it for it is doing him more good than anything I have done for him. All druggists."

Fair Tuesday. Louisville, Ky., April 15.—(Special.)—Fair to-night and Tuesday.

Completed the Canadian Pacific Railway After His Original Promises Had Given Up Hope—Knights by Queen.

Sir William Van Horne, the head of the Canadian Pacific railway, has just left Chicago with the statement that after a thorough inspection of Cuba he believes the Cubans are amply able to govern themselves. Sir William is an excellent example of how an individual can govern himself and a good many of others besides. He was born in Illinois 20 years ago, and began life as a telegraph operator on the Illinois Central railroad. He is now several times a millionaire, and one of the most powerful men in Canada.

Nearly 25 years ago, says the Chicago Times-Herald, Mr. Van Horne was called to the general management of the Canadian Pacific road. The line was then not yet completed to Vancouver. There was a great gap between Winnipeg and the Pacific coast, and a great many Canadians were in existence who did not believe a rail could ever be laid over that gap. Van Horne's government had tried to complete the road and failed. Various contractors had gone to ruin in attempting to carry out government demands. In 1880 it looked as if a good ten years would elapse before Canada would have a railway from Montreal to the Pacific. Then came the Van Horne spirit. Capitalists, politicians, settlers, merchants were clamoring for the completion of the road.

Mr. Van Horne visited Montreal. He called on the government and he politely asked how much money or land or other securities were to the credit of the company at that time upon which cash could be raised. An under-secretary or under something else said flippantly:

"The government has no cash for you, Mr. Van Horne, but you have control of 25,000,000 acres of land and about 800 miles of completed road on which you ought to get something."

The general manager turned on his heel and left the government house.

SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE. (Head of the Great Canadian Pacific Railway System.)

He was facing the problem of building 2,300 miles of road through a mountainous or desert plain country, and he not only was without money, but the road lacked the confidence of capitalists. The story goes that in the next few days he either personally saw or communicated with by wire or letter 30 of the wealthiest capitalists of England, the United States and Canada. He pledged them to build in five years (his contract with the government for the completion of the road allowed him ten) the uncompleted portion of the road. And also repay them in the same time any advances they might make if they would finance the construction work. Practically his guarantee in the matter was no more than his own private word, but the Van Horne word was pretty well known even at that time.

As a result of his solicitations, preliminary showing of his necessities, he commanded at the end of the ten days $10,000,000 in cash, ostensibly that of the company, although loaned, and in 14 days construction work had begun. In 34 months, or six years, Mr. Van Horne and his associates had built 1,900 miles of the main line and 1,300 miles of side tracks, or two miles per day winter and summer. He took his rails over the Selkirk range, through canyons and gorges, conquered every obstacle of nature, and kept his promise to his stockholders. Every dollar he advanced or security they gave was either repaid or well protected, and the Canadian Pacific opened to the world. The total amount which Mr. Van Horne is said to have become responsible for during the completion of the road was over $25,000,000—$10,000,000 at first and the $15,000,000 more afterward, and of this sum not one dollar was ever lost to the men who trusted him when he declared that he intended to finish the Canadian Pacific.

The main line of his road cost $100,000,000 to build in all, but it gave to Great Britain a war route which is said to be capable of handling 4,000 armed men in a day, with their baggage, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and of putting a 100-ton gun in Vancouver within 14 days after it leaves Woolwich. That is what the Illinois boy accomplished in Canada, his adopted land, and that is the incident which shows the Canadian Pacific was finished in five years ahead of contract time.

Incidental Annexation. Between the removal of Canadians to the United States and the investment of American capital in the Dominion a good deal of incidental annexation is going on quietly.

PLUCK WON VICTORY. HERO OF THE BOERS.

What an Illinois Boy Wrought for the People of Canada.

Gen. Christian De Wet Is a Many-Sided Character.

He Is Brave, Agile and Full of Quiet Humor—Has a Gentle Disposition—But Frequently Displays Violent Temper.

The meager dispatches which come to us from South Africa give but little insight into the character of the man whose name is daily associated with all the great events now occurring in that country, writes Howard C. Hillegas, in the World's Work. To the majority of people the name De Wet is suggestive of the quixotic; he appears to us in the light of a character in fiction rather than as a man of present action; his work is so remarkable that we can hardly credit it to his age.

Since the beginning of the war almost every British general and soldier in South Africa has at one time or another been bent upon the capture of this one man. A half-score of times the ending of the pursuit has been clearly defined, yet invariably he has escaped from the encircling cordon of men and guns. He has outgotten, outwitted and outgeneraled his opponents at every turn. He has done even more than escape from his pursuers. He has made more than 5,000 prisoners of war, he has destroyed many millions of dollars' worth of his enemy's munitions, he and his small army of 10,000 men have subsisted for more than six months exclusively on the food and ammunition taken in battle, and more than all, he has rejuvenated a cause that seemed to be lost beyond reclaim when Pretoria fell into British hands.

In personal appearance Gen. De Wet is easily surpassed by every burgher in the commandos. In searching for the commander-in-chief of the forces, one would choose every young man of the poorest burgher, and his astute of his favorite old horse the commandant-general is an obvious choice.

Gen. De Wet is a many-sided man. Although he has a most gentle disposition, he frequently displays a violent temper. He is the intimate friend of all the men in his commandos, yet when there is a duty for them to perform he is cuttlingly stern with them, and temporarily there is a wide gulf between them. For many years before the war he was the most bitter Anglophobe in the Free State; now as soon as a British soldier falls into his hands he will instantly change the prisoner into the best treatment that it is possible to give him. While forming the plans for a battle movement he discusses the subject thoroughly with anybody and everybody, but as soon as he commences to carry the plan into effect he becomes dumb and refuses to disclose his purposes even to his most trusted lieutenants. Although he relishes a victory as keenly as anyone, he will not allow one of his burghers to cheer or display other signs of joy after a battle is won. Unschooled in the tactics of war, he is a master tactician; born outside the breastworks of civilization, he is a noble manner and deportment; a bitter enemy of the British, yet he is a staunch admirer of their capable men. De Wet is rough, honest, and fearless; he is a man of the most unorthodox opinions; he is a marvelous anachronism as a warrior. At Lindley, he ordered his brother, Gen. Peter De Wet, to move his commandos to a certain position. The brother questioned the advisability of the movement and the commandant-general promptly appointed another general to take his place, whereupon Peter De Wet surrendered to the British.

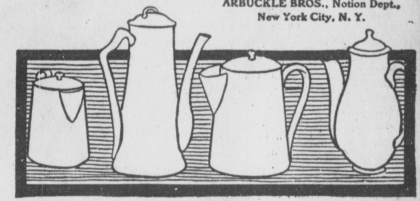

By his men the general is regarded as the greatest humorist in the commandos, and they are constantly enjoying his jokes.

WILLIAM A. RUBLEE.

Appointed to Succeed the Late Mr. Wildman as United States Consul General at Hong-Kong.

The new consul general to Hong-Kong, W. A. Rublee, of Milwaukee, Wis., is a tall, athletic-looking young man who is apt to impress strangers as one whom it might be unpleasant to trifle with. Nor is this impression likely to wear away on closer acquaintance. Though courteous and gentlemanly in his address and bearing, Mr. Rublee is rather reserved in manner. He has a calm, judicial mind and looks well into a matter before coming to a decision, but once his judgment is formed he pursues his way undeterred by popular clamor. His friends in Milwaukee and Wisconsin feel certain that Uncle Sam will have no better representative anywhere abroad or one with whom the honor of the country is more safe.

Mr. Rublee will not be a stranger to his new work. He served four years as consul general in Prague during the administration of President Harrison. His able management of the office won for him high commendation from the state department. His reports were considered models of information, clearness and style.

He has the good fortune to possess a newspaper training. His father was for many years the editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel, and the son has had eight years' experience as an editorial writer. This training has given him an especially good insight into international affairs and will be of much assistance to him in preparing his reports. Mr. Rublee is now 40 years of age. He graduated from Harvard and has mastered the German and French languages. His family consists of a wife and one child.

POLITICS IN SPAIN.

Senor Sagasta, Liberal Statesman, Called by Queen Regent to Form a New Ministry.

Senor Sagasta has responded favorably to the request of the queen regent of Spain that he form a ministry. It is believed that the new government will tend to have a quieting effect on the turbulent spirit of the people. The new liberal premier has been prominent in Spanish politics for nearly 30 years. His wisdom as a master of statecraft was shown in the course of his moderate treatment of the Cubans. He recalled Weyler from the island, and was preparing an autonomous government for the Cubans when the leaders of the revolution demanded complete independence.

dence. Thus the war with the United States was forced upon Spain. Sagasta has come to his country's aid in almost all of her recent crises, and has saved Spain from many painful situations. His successes have been so numerous and so great that his failure to smooth over the comparatively slight trouble now agitating the country is hardly to be looked for.

King Edward's Italian Descent.
 King Edward VII's Italian descent is from the Duchess Caterina Sforza, of Forli, who, in 1501, played Joan of Arc in defending her husband's castle against Caesar Borgia. Her third husband was a Medici, and by him she had a son, Giovanni, the last and greatest of the Renaissance Condottieri. His grandfather became the queen of Henry IV. of France and her daughter the wife of Charles I. of England. By his union the royal house of England could then claim, in equal degree, descent from the houses of Plantagenet, Tudor, Stuart, Navarre, Medici and Sforza.
